What others say about us is more powerful than what we say about ourselves.

“Howden’s initiative and suggestions for looking at and establishing alternative insurance solutions were critical...”

“Howden coupled excellent insurance knowledge with sound commercial nous during negotiations...”

“Our experience with Howden is of a very competent and professional partner. We have achieved very good results in every process undertaken, both from a financial and an insurance perspective. We would not have been able to achieve this without Howden’s support.”

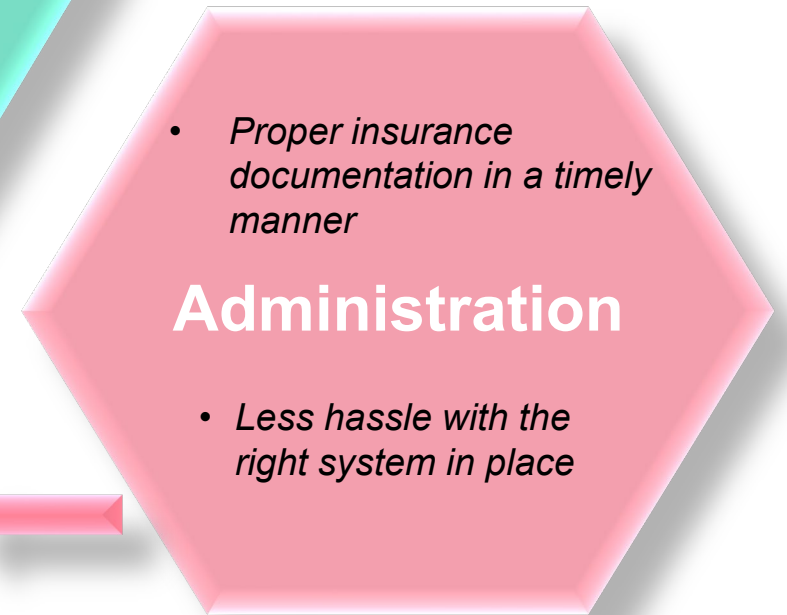

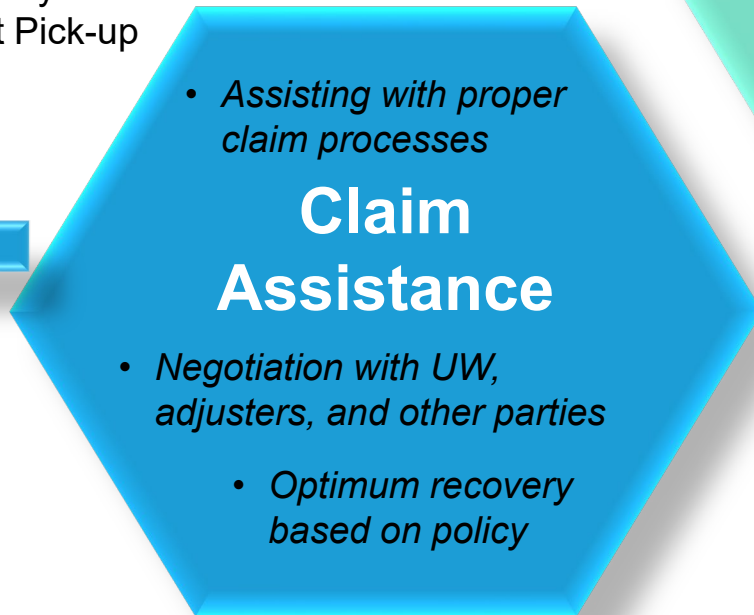

“This was a cutting-edge and challenging exercise ... key to the success of the project was Howden’s client-centric approach and their commitment to quality ... Working collaboratively with my team and the insurance market, Howden turned the concept and strategy into tangible results, creating a bespoke insurance policy for one of our UK practice areas...”

Their value-added capability, talent pool, standards of professionalism, integrity and technical competence combined with their commitment to deliver within prescribed time frames, has resulted in us engaging them for repeat work on both existing policies and a new, innovative product.”
